ZOOTECHNICAL EVALUATION OF INDIGENOUS FEED-BASED FORMULATIONS ON ONTOGENETIC GROWTH PARAMETERS IN BROILER CHICKENS (Gallus gallus domesticus)

FEBRUARY 2025

ABSTRACT

This study evaluated the zootechnical performance of indigenous feed-based formulations on the phase-specific growth trajectories of broiler chickens and identified which growth parameters correlated with optimal feed efficiency. The effects of four different feed treatments on weekly weight gain were analyzed using a two-way ANOVA, which revealed a highly significant effect of time ($p < .001$) but showed no significant differences in weekly weight gain among the different feed treatments ($p = .280$).

Furthermore, with no significant interaction effect found ($p = .880$), the growth patterns did not differ across the treatment groups. A subsequent multinomial logistic regression analysis demonstrated that none of the measured ontogenetic growth parameters were significant predictors of achieving optimal feed efficiency.

Overall, the findings indicate that while the broiler chickens grew significantly over the study period, the different indigenous feed-based formulations did not have a statistically significant impact on their growth trajectories or efficiency, suggesting comparable performance among the tested regimens. The researchers were able to formulate an indigenous feed that has a quality equal to a commercial feed.

Cvsians Honor National Bible Day

Faith and Reflection Highlighted in School Celebration.

 Mr. Laurence Andrew Lugtu | Tue, Jan 28, 2025

Cvsians from various programs celebrated National Bible Day on January 28, 2025, with a film viewing and reflective activities held at the Concepcion Vocational School (CVS) Conference Room.

The event was attended by students from Animal Production Swine Batch 2025, Diploma in Agricultural Technology 22-A and 23-B, and on-the-job trainees from Dominican College of Tarlac and Pampanga State Agricultural University. This activity, organized in compliance with Republic Act No. 11163, known as the National Bible Day Act, was spearheaded by Engr. Bryan Jake B. Castro, Student Council Organization (SCO) Adviser, with the support of SCO officers.

*"Let the words of my mouth
and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O Lord, my rock and
my redeemer."*

The centerpiece of the event was the screening of the film The Bible, which presented key biblical stories and their teachings. Following the screening, students were tasked with writing reflection papers to express their thoughts and insights. To assess their understanding, participants also completed a Google Form quiz related to the movie.

The CVS ORACLE editorial staff documented the celebration, capturing the event's highlights and moments of reflection.

The program concluded with the participants expressing appreciation for the meaningful activity, emphasizing the importance of faith in their personal and academic lives. The celebration served as a reminder of the value of spirituality and its role in education.

STA. JULIANA SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS WORK IMMERSION PRESENTATION

 Ms. Jennilyn C. Torres | Tue, Jan 28, 2025

On January 28, 2025, Tuesday, the Grade 12 Prosperity students of Sta. Juliana Senior High School under the Technical-Vocational-Livelihood (TVL) track with a specialization in Animal Production held their Work Immersion Presentation. The event marked the culmination of their 80-hour work immersion experience at TESDA Concepcion Vocational School, showcasing the knowledge, skills, and insights they had gained throughout their training

The students presented their learnings through a PowerPoint presentation that highlighted various activities undertaken during their immersion. These activities demonstrated the practical application of their coursework and the competencies they had developed in the field of animal production. The presentation stood as a testament to their hard work, dedication, and the invaluable experiences they acquired during their time at TESDA.

"Let the words of my mouth
and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O Lord, my rock and
my redeemer."

After the presentation, the students paid tribute to their instructors at TESDA Concepcion Vocational School through a heartfelt performance. They sang the song "Glowing Inside" by Nikki Gil, dedicating it to their mentors who guided and supported them throughout their journey. This performance served as an expression of gratitude for the mentorship and encouragement provided by the TESDA faculty.

This event not only marked a significant milestone in the educational journey of the Grade 12 Prosperity students but also strengthened the bond between the learners and their instructors. Through this meaningful occasion, the students celebrated their achievements and expressed their deep appreciation for the guidance they received during their work immersion experience.

CVS Love Month Celebration Brings Cvsians Together.

 Mr. Willmark B. Madayag | Feb 13, 2025

Cvsians gathered at the student lounge area of Concepcion Vocational School (CVS) to celebrate the CVS Love Month, an event organized by the Student Council Organization (SCO) and documented by CVS Oracle. The celebration started at 8:30 AM, featuring various activities, performances, and booths.

Opening Ceremony

The event was made possible through the efforts of the SCO officers, led by their adviser, Engr. Bryan Jake B. Castro. The CVS Oracle Editorial staff, headed by Ma'am Amapola Jana P. Malonzo, managed the documentation. Students were advised to wear any shade of red, and each section brought food to share.

Ms. Angelica D. Adlawan, an on-the-job trainee (OJT) from Dominican College of Tarlac (DCT), served as the emcee. The program started with a solemn prayer led by Sir Carlos D. Mola, Assistant Vocational Instruction Supervisor, followed by the singing of Philippine National Anthem conducted by Dr. Lerma P. Llorente.

Inspirational Messages

Sir Rico D. Briones, Vocational Instruction Supervisor, delivered an inspirational message, discussing the different types of love—philia (friendship), eros (romantic), and agape (selfless love). Following him, Dr. Consolacion A. Talisik, Vocational School Administrator, addressed the attendees as the keynote speaker, emphasizing the importance of love in all forms.

Performances and Activities

The event featured singing and dancing performances by OJTs from DCT and students from the Diploma in Agricultural Technology (DAT) 22-A and 23-B sections.

To add excitement, the SCO organized various booths, including:

Mini Perya – A small fair-style game booth.

Marriage Booth – A fun booth where students could experience a mock wedding ceremony.

Neneng B. Booth – A food stall selling sandwiches.

Basketball Booth – A shoot-and-win game for students.

Confession & Appreciation Booth – Managed by CVS Oracle Editorial staff, allowing students to express their feelings or appreciation towards their peers.

Conclusion

The CVS Love Month Celebration fostered a sense of togetherness and enjoyment among Cvsians. The event highlighted different expressions of love, from friendship to appreciation, making it a meaningful experience for students, faculty, and OJTs alike.

TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School Holds Agency Performance Report for C.Y. 2024

 Ma'am. Amapola Jana P. Malonzo | Feb 20, 2025

Concepcion, Tarlac – TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School successfully conducted its Agency Performance Report (APR) for Calendar Year 2024 at the school's Conference Room. The event served as a platform to evaluate the institution's performance metrics, key initiatives, challenges faced, and overall program impact throughout the year.

Evaluating Achievements and Challenges

The APR aimed to assess the effectiveness of various vocational education programs and align future strategies with the goal of enhancing skills development in the region. Key stakeholders from different sectors gathered to review performance data, share insights, and identify areas for further improvement in TESDA's initiatives.

During the session, discussions centered on program accomplishments, resource allocation, and collaborative efforts to strengthen vocational training programs. The meeting also provided a venue for fostering partnerships among industry leaders, educators, and policymakers to ensure a more dynamic and responsive technical education system.

Commitment to Excellence

TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School reaffirmed its dedication to quality education and training, with the APR serving as a crucial tool in guiding future projects and strategies. The report's findings will help the institution adapt to evolving workforce demands and continue making significant contributions to the community.

The success of the APR highlights the importance of collaboration and continuous improvement in vocational education. With the active participation of stakeholders, TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School remains committed to empowering individuals with valuable skills and preparing them for a competitive job market.

Cake and Cupcake Decorating and Plating Outreach Program.

In celebration of Child Week, TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School successfully conducted a Cake and Cupcake Decorating and Plating Outreach Program on March 26, 2025, at SPED, Minane, Concepcion, Tarlac. The event was dedicated to empowering children with disabilities, ages 8-15 years old, by providing them with a hands-on experience in culinary creativity.

Facilitators:

Amapola Jana P. Malonzo (Instructor I)
Ann Josell M. Yumul (Learning Facilitator)
Lea P. Orseno (MT-1 SPED Coordinator)

Empowering Young Learners Through Culinary Arts

The program aimed to enhance the creativity, fine motor skills, and confidence of the young participants through engaging demonstrations and interactive sessions. Under the guidance of the facilitators, the children explored various decorating methods, experimented with color combinations, and learned plating techniques that transformed simple cupcakes into delightful works of art.

Beyond developing their artistic skills, the activity provided an opportunity for self-expression and personal achievement, making the experience both educational and enjoyable. The event highlighted the importance of inclusive education, ensuring that all learners, regardless of their abilities, have access to skill-building opportunities.

A Meaningful Success

The outreach program brought joy and inspiration to the children of Concepcion Special Education Center. The smiles on their faces were a testament to the program's success and its positive impact on the community. TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School extends its heartfelt gratitude to the facilitators, participants, and supporters who contributed to making this initiative both meaningful and impactful.

As part of its commitment to community development, TESDA - Concepcion Vocational School looks forward to conducting more programs that empower and uplift young learners, fostering creativity, confidence, and lifelong skills.

Concepcion Vocational School Conducts Promotion, Advocacy, and Career Guidance Campaign.

 Ms. Ronalin Magcalas |

Concepcion, Tarlac – In a dedicated effort to guide students toward vocational education and career opportunities, Concepcion Vocational School (CVS), under the leadership of Dr. Consolacion A. Talisik, Vocational School Administrator, launched an extensive Promotion, Advocacy, and Career Guidance campaign from January 28 to March 28, 2025. The initiative was spearheaded by Dr. Lerma P. Llorente, Assistant Professor IV, alongside Sir Fely Mark A. Fabia, R.Agr, Agriculture Instructor

Bringing Career Opportunities Closer to Students

The campaign aimed to raise awareness about vocational education, encourage students to consider technical careers, and provide guidance on available TESDA-accredited programs at CVS. By visiting schools across Concepcion, Capas, and Tarlac, the team sought to bridge the gap between secondary education and vocational training, offering students practical options for their future careers.

Concepcion Vocational School Conducts Promotion, Advocacy, and Career Guidance Campaign.

Schools Visited

The campaign reached various educational institutions, including:

- Magao National High School
- Estrella Aquino National High School
- Caluluan National High School
- Aranguren Integrated School
- Cristo Rey National High School
- Anastacio G. Yumul High School
- Sta. Rosa National High School
- Benigno S. Aquino National High School
- Armenia Integrated High School

Empowering the Next Generation

Through interactive sessions, students learned about career paths in agriculture, technical-vocational education, and other skills-based professions. The team provided valuable insights into industry demands, employability trends, and the advantages of pursuing vocational education in today's workforce.

The campaign successfully inspired students to explore technical courses, equipping them with knowledge about the opportunities, scholarships, and certifications available at CVS. By engaging directly with young learners, Concepcion Vocational School reaffirmed its commitment to educational empowerment and workforce development.

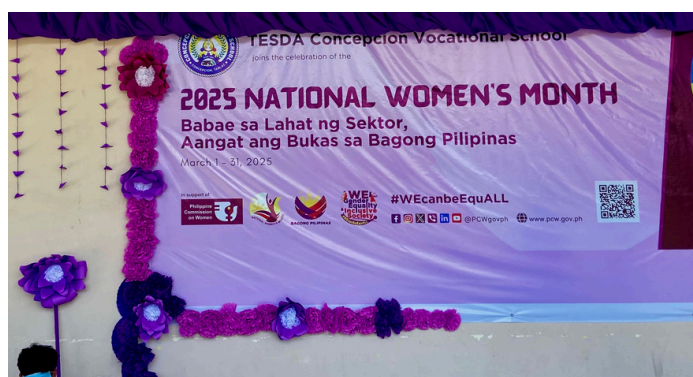

A Commitment to Lifelong Learning

As the Promotion, Advocacy, and Career Guidance Campaign concluded, CVS remains dedicated to nurturing future professionals and ensuring that students are well-prepared to take on careers that contribute to local and national development. The school looks forward to continuing its mission of providing quality technical education and expanding career opportunities for young Filipinos.

CVSians Celebrate 2025 National Women's Month with Empowerment and Unity.

 Mr. Laurence Andrew Lugtu | Tue, Jan 28, 2025

Concepcion Vocational School (CVS) culminated its month-long celebration of National Women's Month with a vibrant and empowering program on March 28, 2025, at the CVS Quadrangle area. The event, themed "Babae sa Lahat ng Sektor, Aangat ang Bukas sa Bagong Pilipinas," brought together CVS administrative staff, faculty, and students from Diploma in Agricultural Technology (DAT) batches 22-A, 23-B, and 24-C, along with on-the-job trainees from Concepcion Holy Cross Colleges Inc. and Dominican College of Tarlac.

A Month of Women Empowerment

The celebration was spearheaded by Sir Carlos D. Mola, LPT, Assistant Vocational Instruction

Supervisor and Gender and Development (GAD) Focal. Throughout March, CVS was adorned with empowering visuals, designs, and symbols advocating for women's rights and gender equality. Additionally, students and staff wore purple shirts every Friday as a sign of solidarity with the cause.

A Grand Culmination Program

The Student Council Organization (SCO), led by their adviser Engr. Bryan Jake B. Castro, took charge of organizing the culminating program. The event began with a solemn prayer led by Rica D. Tuazon, followed by the singing of the Philippine National Anthem, conducted by Dr. Lerma P. Llorente.

To energize the participants, SCO officers led the "Isang Bilyong Babae ang Babangon" Body and Mind Booster Exercise, setting the stage for a day of inspiration and celebration.

CVSians Celebrate 2025 National Women's Month with Empowerment and Unity.

Inspirational Messages and Performances

Main speakers delivered stirring messages emphasizing the significance of Women's Month: Sir Rico D. Briones, Vocational Instruction Supervisor, highlighted the importance of the celebration, saying, "Napakaswerte ninyo dahil ang mga babae ay may programang nakalaan para sa kanila, tulad ng Women's Month. Kayong mga Eva ang bida sa buwan ng Marso." ("You are fortunate to have programs dedicated to women, such as Women's Month. This March, women take center stage.")

Dr. Consolacion A. Talisik, Vocational School Administrator, reinforced the call for gender equality, stating, "Let's stand together for equality and empowerment. Every woman deserves respect and a voice."

The program also featured intermission performances from various student groups, with DAT-22-A emerging as the best performers of the day.

Games, Prizes, and a Film Screening

Adding fun and excitement to the event, SCO officers organized interactive games, where students enthusiastically participated and won prizes. A raffle draw, hosted by emcees Czarlien Angelica D. Adlawan and Ronald Lucero Jr., further enlivened the celebration.

In the afternoon, a special film screening of "The Six Triple Eight" was held in the Conference Room, providing attendees with an inspirational true story of resilience and women's strength.

A Celebration to Remember

The 2025 National Women's Month celebration at CVS was a resounding success, thanks to the efforts of students, faculty, and staff. The entire event was documented by Cvs Oracle – Student Publication, led by their adviser Ma'am Amapola Jana P. Malonzo,LPT.

As the event concluded, participants left with a renewed sense of empowerment, unity, and

Food for the Soul

Cast Your Burdens on the Lord

“Cast your burden on the Lord, and he will sustain you; he will never permit the righteous to be moved.”

PSALM 55:22

Dear Cvians, life as a student can be overwhelming. The weight of academic pressure, personal struggles, and uncertainty about the future can sometimes feel too heavy to bear. There are days when exhaustion sets in, and it seems like no one truly understands the burdens we carry. But Psalm 55:22 reminds us of a powerful truth: we are not meant to carry these burdens alone.

God invites us to surrender our worries to Him. To "cast" something means to throw it away forcefully—not hold onto it. This verse encourages us to lay everything at His feet, trusting that He will sustain us. It doesn't mean we won't face hardships, but it assures us that we won't go through them alone.

Jesus also gives this same promise in Matthew 11:28: "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Whether it's stress from exams, relationships, or personal battles, God is always ready to listen. He doesn't promise a problem-free life, but He does promise strength, peace, and guidance.

Reflection:

Cvians, what burdens are you carrying today? Have you truly surrendered them to God, or are you still holding onto them? Trust in His promise—He will sustain you.

A Simple Prayer:

"Lord, I give You my worries, my fears, and my struggles. Help me to trust in Your strength, knowing that You will sustain me. Thank You for always being with me. Amen."
